Exclusive Coffee Subscription Hold on tight until the next ECS launches founder's invitation As you know, I'm deeply passionate about coffee, and I've been working hard for over a decade developing the BRCC-essential roasts you currently enjoy. In the last couple of years, thanks to the continued support of coffee club members, I have had the freedom to hunt and develop unique micro-batch coffees that few have the opportunity to enjoy. I can now share these unique coffees through exclusive coffee. When you join ECS, you get monthly shipments of high-scoring micro-batch coffees from around the world. This selection of extended taste profiles complements your favorite classic roast from brcc. I choose these coffees from hand-resistant farms to develop the most unique experience for our hard Coffeeheads. There's limited space, but we add new slots every month, so stay tuned and sign up early to book your order. Thank you for being part of the BRCC community and giving me the opportunity to share my passion for roasting one kind of coffee from all over the world. I hope you enjoy every great new roast. Evan Hafer CEO and founder of BRCC Coffee Brewing Essentials When Evan Hafer founded The Black Rifle Coffee Company in 2014, his goal was to provide consumers with the freshest and highest quality coffee in America. Some might say he has achieved it, but Hafer is not one to achieve the goal and then pat himself on the back for a job well done - because the job is not finished. BRCC is stepping up its premium coffee game with a new service called Exclusive Coffee Subscription (ECS). Launching today, ECS is a monthly subscription that is open to all current members of brcc coffee club. It has a rare and exclusive roast using beans of naturally processed microerants curated especially for coffeeheads who want to explore new and more complex flavors. Each month's unique limited-run roast has a different country of origin and wildly different taste profiles, Hafer said. BRCC founder and CEO Evan Hafer is sybilising new beer. Photo: Black Rifle Coffee Company. In addition to roasting and selling america's best coffee, the BRCC has made coffee education a prominent part of its culture. Between the humorous and personality-based videos on their YouTube channel, there are also tents of grinding, brewing and making the perfect coffee cup. Hafer said that the roasts of exclusive, small batches were the logical next step, especially for coffeeheads who are interested in experimenting with ratios and creating their own coffee experience. Coffee has about twice as many taste notes as wine, Hafer said in Coffee or Die's fresh At Black Rifle Coffee, we have been specializing within a certain profile for several years. We really do. Want. curates this experience to show people how amazing we are at roasting coffee and really presenting the whole spectrum of palate you can get from coffee. Although the roast is available to a very limited extent, the exclusivity of roast beef is not determined by the BRCC – it's all about the availability of beans themselves. It's really about how much of this is grown and how much is available for purchase, Hafer said. I think we have about 1500 kilos of Costa Rican black honey, for example, while the typical runs we handle are £10,000 or £15,000. Costa Rica's black honey roast is called Flying Elk, and is the first offer for ECS. Coffee project manager Matt Leviner describes it as a full-styling coffee rich in caramel aroma and dark chocolate, plum and blackberry tastes. The roasts of the future have been sourced from Ethiopia, Vietnam, Brazil and Thailand. These are small batches, premium and exclusive coffees, and are typically handled differently, Hafer said. They become more micro-batch, organic, naturally processed. Just to offer a literally different taste or profile to our customers who really want something unique. In addition to the new roast, branded accessories and clothing will also be added to each ECS offering. Photo: Black Rifle Coffee Company. Hafer has been complexly involved in all aspects of ECS, from the purchase of beans to the development of roasting profiles with Leviner and the design of the branding, bags and other additional features that accompany the fry. This is what I do — I keep roasting new coffees in sample size, Hafer said. Not only do I drink the same AK-47 every day - I mean, I drink AK-47 almost every day, but I also drink a lot of my new sample roasts, which I also develop. In order to have access to restricted roasts, consumers must first be a member of the BRCC's Coffee Club, but Hafer stressed that the ESC may not be meant to replace the club. It's built to complement it, he said. If you're a long way from Just Black or CAF, and you've been drinking it for the last couple of years, you might want to get an extra bag or two of this a month. You can really expand your taste, you can expand your palate. Coffee has so many different flavors. Top Reviews The latest reviews subtotal Cashier & checkout taxes Your cart is currently empty.
